Commencement Day

Please report to Gladstein Fieldhouse by 8:30 a.m. for the morning lineup or 1:30 p.m. for the afternoon lineup (earlier if you still need to pick up your apparel). Once inside, look for your school banner or sign (such as "College of Arts and Sciences" or "School of Continuing Studies"). Candidates will line up by school and then by degree, with candidates for the highest degrees at the front of each line (doctoral/Ph.D., master's, bachelor's, associate). School marshals will assist with the lineup.

After proceeding into Assembly Hall, all candidates remain in their assigned areas until after the recessional of the platform party, which will close the ceremony. The ceremony will last approximately 90 minutes.

Tickets Are Not Required

Your family and friends do not need tickets, and there will be no reserved seating. Though participation in Commencement isn't mandatory, you're encouraged to take part in this singular celebration of achievement. The ceremony will be free and open to the public.

Who Is Eligible to Participate?

- Undergraduates who have completed the requirements for graduation by May 2009
- Persons who may complete their work for a degree at the end of the 2009 summer sessions
- Graduate students who have completed University Graduate School requirements from January through May 2009

Application for Graduation

You must apply to graduate. If you have any questions about the process, please contact the recorder's office in the school(s) that will be granting your degree(s).

Caps and Gowns

All candidates for degrees must wear caps, tassels (colored to reflect school), and gowns at Commencement. If you'll be earning a bachelor's or associate degree, your apparel will also include a stole of gratitude to keep as a memento or give to someone who has helped you in your academic career. If you're a doctoral/Ph.D. candidate, your apparel will also include a hood.

Renting Apparel

You can rent your apparel in person from the Indiana University Bookstore in the Indiana Memorial Union or online through IU's Commencement site, www.commencement.iu.edu. This site directs students to the reservation service at Herff Jones, the company that provides the apparel.

It's a good idea to order your apparel as early as possible. The deadline for ordering online is April 3.

Rental charges for academic apparel are as follows: bachelor's and associate degree apparel, $69.98; master's, $79.98; doctoral/Ph.D., $93.98. Indiana's 7 percent sales tax will be added to these charges. Associate and bachelor's degree candidates have the option of purchasing additional stoles of gratitude for $20.98 each plus Indiana sales tax of 7 percent.

Apparel Distribution

Apparel will be distributed at the Harry Gladstein Fieldhouse starting at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, May 5. Distribution times are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Tuesday, May 5, Wednesday, May 6, Thursday, May 7, and Friday, May 8. On Saturday, May 9, distribution will start at 7:30 a.m. in the Harry Gladstein Fieldhouse, but this option should be regarded as a last resort because time will be short and lines long.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Congratulations to new graduates and your families. Welcome to the Indiana University Alumni Association (IUAA).

Those of you earning your first IU degree will receive a free one-year membership in the IUAA, which includes membership in your school alumni association and your local alumni chapter (more than 100 worldwide). Detailed information will be sent to you a few months after graduation. You'll have access to many services to help you with your life after IU. For more information, visit www.alumni.indiana.edu and click "2009 Graduates."

All graduates who participate in the 2009 Commencement ceremony will receive a handsome diploma cover, compliments of the Indiana University Alumni Association.

I encourage you, your family, and friends to attend Commencement and Commencement-related events, and I hope you have a wonderful Commencement day.

Best regards,

Thomas A. Martz
President and CEO
Indiana University Alumni Association
www.alumni.indiana.edu

Graduates keep caps, tassels, stoles, and any honor cords that they've earned. You'll return your rental gown at Gladstein Fieldhouse immediately after the ceremony. If you're a doctoral/Ph.D. candidate, you'll also return your rental hood.

Honor Cords

Undergraduates who'll be graduating with honors are entitled to wear certain approved honor cords. Students graduating with distinction, high distinction, and highest distinction may wear cords called fourragères on their left shoulders. Fourragères are distributed by the individual schools, and graduating students must pick them up at the schools by Friday, May 8.

Candidates for degrees who belong to approved honor societies may also purchase and wear the cords of those societies. More information is available at www.commencement.iu.edu.

Recognition of Doctoral/Ph.D. Candidates

Candidates for doctoral and Ph.D. degrees will be presented onstage. They will then be hooded by their faculty advisors, who will carry the hoods for the candidates until hooding takes place. Faculty marshals can provide further details in Gladstein Fieldhouse.

Commencement Announcements

If you'd like Commencement announcement cards to mail to family and friends, you can purchase them from the IU Bookstore or from Herff Jones via www.commencement.iu.edu.

Appropriate Attire and Conduct

Business or business-casual attire is appropriate on Commencement day, and degree candidates are asked to wait until they arrive in Gladstein Fieldhouse before putting on caps and gowns. Only students in appropriate apparel will be allowed to proceed to the seating area for degree candidates in Assembly Hall. The Commencement Committee requests your help in upholding the dignity and tradition of the ceremony by avoiding any action that may be distracting or inappropriate. No alcoholic beverages are permitted in Gladstein Fieldhouse or Assembly Hall; anyone found to be carrying alcoholic beverages will be escorted from the building. All degree candidates in attendance are expected to remain for the entire ceremony.

Diplomas and Covers

You will receive a keepsake diploma cover, courtesy of the IU Alumni Association, on Commencement day as you proceed into Assembly Hall. Your diploma must be approved, printed, and mailed to you after the ceremony. Expect to receive the diploma at your designated permanent address within three months of May 9.

Arrangements for Guests with Disabilities

Seating will be provided for those who need sign-language interpretation, and space will be available for wheelchair users, who must use their own wheelchairs. Please make prior plans for accommodation with the Indiana University Alumni Office by calling (812) 855-4664.

Parking

Parking can be challenging on Commencement day. Our best advice is to arrive early and allow enough time to make your way inside from the Assembly Hall parking lot. For information about handicapped drop-off and for other parking tips, visit www.commencement.iu.edu.

Trustee Election Information

All Indiana University degree holders are eligible to vote in the 2009 alumni trustee election. Ballots will be e-mailed after the Commencement ceremony, but not later than June 9, to all degree holders, including those who received degrees in December 2008 and May 2009.
